Purpose

God calls each of us to follow him, but the world often decides for us differently.

Many voices from many different authorities often tell us how we should think and what we should think.

When the world is this noisy, it is hard to know what is true and what is right.

What does it mean to be a woman of Christ?

What does it mean to be sisters together in Christ?

What does it mean to be children of God in the home, in our communities, in the church, in society at large?

How should we be all of these things as females?

If you have ever asked yourself these questions, then come.

"Come, everyone who thirsts, come to the waters;" (Isa 55:1)

I guarantee we'll be asking them together, and God will answer us together.

"Incline your ear, and come to me; hear, that your soul may live" (Isa 55:3)

We can discover our purpose in community, and glorify God through our fellowship.

"Instead of the thorn shall come up the cypress; instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle; and it shall make a name for the Lord, an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off." (Isa 55:13)

Content

We'll be exploring Isaiah 55 over the course of the year, using the verses as context for our conversations about topics that we can together decide as a community of women. We'll spend as long as we need on each before moving on. This includes bible study, sharing, dialogues and any other methods of group communication you can think of.
