

A Burning Passion for His Mission

My Journey

Before I became a follower of Christ, I lived a “typical” life: I followed the crowd, and tried to fit in with everyone else. I was content with my normal mundane life, but inside, I felt an emptiness in my heart, a hunger, to want something more in life. When I accepted Jesus into my heart to be my Lord and Saviour in middle school, I became overwhelmed with such incredible love, a love that flooded over me like a waterfall and filled up that emptiness in my heart and soul. I suddenly wanted to share this love with others around me and have them experience this same magnificent joy and love.

This passion continued to grow over the years: in university, I embarked on several mission trips and began serving locally in Toronto, where I experienced not only the power of God, but the indescribable joy of sharing this good news with others. When I came back from my India trip last Christmas 2017, I began to have a growing passion to spread the gospel all over the city of Toronto. My dream is to empower leaders in CCF who will give everything for Christ – and who will go all over Toronto and to the ends of the earth for His great mission!

My Vision

- That we would glorify God by sharing the gospel in our daily lives, in the community and around the world
- That we would have a burning passion to reach out to people of all tribe, nation and tongue
- That we would raise up and mobilize leaders for local and global missions

Our Calling

“Therefore, go and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, and teaching them to obey everything I have commanded you. And surely I am with you always, to the very end of the age.”
–Matthew 28:19-20 (NIV)

As Christians, I believe that we should make it our life mission to make disciples of all nations. We have received this everlasting gift of salvation and this abundant love of God, and we should have a burning passion to share this amazing gift to everyone around us: our friends, our coworkers, strangers on the streets, and even to the unreached people groups in the world. God has called each of us, in every life stage we’re in, to take part in His Great Commission and be ambassadors of the gospel. My hope is to reignite a fire again for the gospel and that we would, together as a community, fully embrace and live out this mission.

Living out His Great Mission

In our Daily Lives

I hope that in our daily lives, we would reach out to those in our closest circles – our family members, friends and classmates. As we go to class or work, may our prayer everyday be, “God, how can I serve You today?”

In our Community

My prayer is that we would also evangelize to those on campus and in the city of Toronto. I hope that, by hosting outreach events on campus and connecting us with campus groups such as Missions Hub and P2C, we would begin to have a heart for Toronto. My desire is that we would begin to outreach to our local community, such as volunteering at homeless shelters, handing out sandwiches to those on the streets, and really loving those who need Christ.

In the World

My greatest hope is that we would raise up leaders at CCF to go to the ends of the earth for His mission. By strengthening the ties between CCF and other international organizations such as SIM and Lausanne Global, we would begin to pray and serve the global body of Christ. May we pray fervently for our brothers and sisters around the world and for the unreached people groups to know our Lord Jesus Christ. May we yearn and ache and cry in our hearts to serve them, no matter the cost.

May we fully believe and declare: “I consider my life worth nothing to me; my only aim is to finish the race and complete the task the Lord Jesus has given me—the task of testifying to the good news of God’s grace” (Acts 20:24)!
